

Abeloffs Buy Textile Plant; Announce Plans To Renovate Property For Industrial Use

THE POCONO TEXTILE Prints Co. building on Brown St., East Stroudsburg, has been purchased by Nathan Abeloff and Sons, local businessmen. It was announced last night.

Abeloff said he plans to thoroughly renovate the flood-battered structure in an effort to preserve the jobs of upwards of several hundred persons and a weekly payroll approaching $20,000.

While the purchase price was not disclosed, Abeloff estimated that the building will be worth about $150,000 when all of the necessary repairs have been made.

He indicated that, since textile machinery already is set up in the building, it will continue to be used by textile converting firms. He also hinted that a former tenant may return when the renovations are complete.

Brick Construction

Abeloff said the two-story brick building contains 90,000 square feet of floor space, in addition to having a large basement.

He said it will cost between $60,000 and $70,000 to get the building completely renovated. He added that work will begin Monday and will take between four to five months to complete.

However, the second floor will be ready for occupancy in about a month, he said, and a firm has already indicated its desire to lease that amount of space.

Abeloff disclosed that he purchased the property from Joseph J. Brunetti and Benjamin Friederman, both of Bergen County, New Jersey, who reportedly paid about $100,000 for the building and spent an additional $75,000 in improvements.

Recondition Machinery

Abeloff indicated that the former owners rejected the idea of having to spend more than $30,000 to make repairs to the building which was so badly damaged by the flood.

In addition to the cost of renovating the structure itself, he said, it will cost another $25,000 to recondition the textile machinery in the building. That work will also be started immediately.

Having renovated other local business properties, Abeloff said his main desire in taking over the building is to help keep up employment in the Stroudsburgs.

Atty. Christie D. Shull represented Abeloff in the transaction, and the former owners were represented by Atty. George T. Robinson.

the patronage-important county commission.

Democrat I. Lewis Rubin won over Republican Orphans Court incumbent John W. Eckelberry, while Democrat Thomas C. Lamb, 21, a political unknown, defeated Russell J. T. Ferris, incumbent GOP coroner. Ferris had been arrested during the campaign on charge of fee padding and misappropriation of county funds. He resigned as Republican county chairman but stayed in the coroner race.

Judge Taxis Re-elected

In traditionally Republican Montgomery County, Orphans Court Judge Alfred L. Taxis Jr., a Republican running as a Democrat, scored an upset win over former Dist. Atty. Frederick B. Smilie, seeking to replace him.

The Republicans staved off strong Democratic bids in Lancaster and Delaware counties.

In Gov. Leader's own home county—York—the Democrats were successful in ousting Republicans after a four-year tenure. The Democrats named a mayor in York city, also winning other city offices except treasurer, and sweeping the countywide races.

In Reading, the Democrats ended a four-year domination by the Republicans, electing a mayor and winning two council seats along with district attorney and sheriff.

A retired high school principal, Orion H. Reeves, was named mayor of Easton in his first try for public office, defeating Democrat Patrick Mazza.

The incumbent surged to victory.

Open House Scheduled At School

ECHO LAKE—Middle Smithfield School holds "open house" tonight.

As part of the formal portion of the program parents will occupy the rooms normally filled with their own children. Teachers of each room will be on hand to answer questions and guide parents through the building.

An open discussion will be held in the school auditorium after the sessions in classrooms. Floyd Shoemaker, PTA president, will be in charge of the meeting.

First and second grade mothers will serve refreshments after the meeting is over. A report will be heard on plans for the card social to be held Nov. 18.

at Lebanon with Mayor Frederick Miller defeating Democrat James G. Krouse.

The lone election issue affecting all the state's counties was the vote on a constitutional amendment to update pensions for former state workers now retired. The amendment moved steadily toward acceptance at a 3-1 pace.

Sixteen communities voted to reject Sunday movies, while 14 others decided to accept them. The vote arose from the spread of drive-in theaters, mostly in rural areas.

Target Date For Work Set By Red Cross

THE TARGET date for completion of contracts for restoring properties damaged in the Aug. 18 flood is May 15, the Stroudsburg Lions Club was told Tuesday night.

Richard Suydam, in charge of estimating costs and restoring flood-wrecked properties in this area, was the speaker. He reviewed this phase of American Red Cross activities here in the wake of the Aug. 18 flood.

As a preface to his talk, Mr. Suydam was profuse in his praise of local individuals and organizations who immediately responded to the emergency and supplied every possible assistance.

Many Own Property

Quoting from Red Cross figures, the speaker revealed that 963 cases for assistance were registered by flood victims; 41 percent of these cases were property owners. This percentage is unusually high as measured by statistics of other flood experiences.

Aid in restoring residential properties was required in 336 of these cases; 36 buildings had to be completely rebuilt, at an average cost of $7200 per unit.

To date 297 applications for property restoration have been approved, 18 have been completed and three are pending awaiting legal clearance. The total cost for property restoration, Mr. Suydam said, is approximately $323,000.

Boys Send Money

Another human interest aftermath of the flood was disclosed in a letter which was read by Lion President Seymour Katz. Bruce and Alan Huling, 8 and 10 years old respectively, of Fort Worth, Texas sent $12 to their aunt, Mrs. Samuel Van Gordon, the money to be used for the relief of flood sufferers.

The boys had received a copy of the flood edition of The Daily Record and exhibited it at their Sunday school class of the Oakhurst Presbyterian Church at Fort Worth. The result was that the money was collected from members of the class and forwarded to Mrs. Van Gordon. The money will be added to the Lions Disaster Fund.

Senior Class At Polk High Selects Play

KRESEVILLE — "A Feudin' Over Yonder," the Polk High School senior class play, will be presented Friday, Nov. 18 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The plot revolves around a feud between the "Popoff" family and the "Fry" family. The feud dates from years before the time of the play when one of the Popoff boys said he was "going out to shoot a skunk"—and shot old man Fry instead.

Other characters who keep popping up (or off, if you like) during the play's course, include "Mountain Maggie," who plays nursemaid to the wounded and sick in the feud and "Rosie Belle Fry," a backwoods Annie Oakley who knows how to get her man with a gun.

Prominent among the cast are: Marian Berger, Joyce Burger, Gloria Durkop, Ronnie Smith, Richard Furler, Roseann Kreimoyer, Josephine Dotter, Ruth Kresge, Larry Souders, Charles Eckert, Robert Young, and John Snyder. Marijane Everett, head of the English department, is the director of the play.

Voters Here Okay State Amendment

MONROE COUNTY voters—by almost a three-to-one edge—Tuesday sanctioned an amendment to the State Constitution which could bring higher pensions to hundreds of retired municipal workers.

A total 1441 persons voted in favor of the amendment and 536 voted against it. The favorable response to the amendment in Monroe County came a day after The Daily Record urged residents to vote "yes" on the question.

Amendment Explained

The amendment would allow the Legislature to pass laws increasing the pensions of former municipal workers after they have retired, in order to bring them in line with new and more beneficial pension plans adopted for present employees.

Up until now, this has been a disputed question with the courts generally interpreting it to mean that retired workers cannot benefit from pension plan improvements adopted after their retirement. The amendment gained statewide approval and if the Legislature passes the necessary bills, it will pave the way for correction of a hardship now falling on many municipal workers whose pensions are far below present-day standards.

Mrs. Carmichael Awarded Divorce From Composer

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 9 — Mrs. Ruth Carmichael, 41, wife of composer Hoagy Carmichael, 55, obtained a divorce yesterday on testimony that he had been "cold and indifferent" to her for the last three years.

Mrs. Carmichael told Superior Judge Edward Brand her divorce suit "was more or less a culmination of many things which I'd give my life for if I didn't have to state them specifically."

She testified her husband had been quarrelsome over expenses and, during her past illnesses, threatened to fire the doctor and nurses.

Mrs. Carmichael was given joint custody of their sons, Hoagy Bix, 17, and Randy Bob, 15. She will receive $1,250 monthly alimony.

The Carmichaels were married in New York City in 1936 and separated a year ago.

Hoodlum Charged With Taking Part In $423,771 Swindle

CUMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 9 — Harold Paul Odom, 35 years, a hoodlum, was arrested here today and charged with a part in the $423,771 swindle of an elderly Rochester, N. Y., industrialist.

Odom, who is 60, and James Walter Golden, 45, have been under arrest here since Oct. 12 in connection with a $27,000 robbery in 1949. Allegheny County authorities dropped the case against them for lack of evidence a few minutes before Odom was arrested on a federal warrant stemming from the swindle.

Golden, who has prison records in Wisconsin, Indiana and New Mexico, went free.

False Representation

The federal warrant charged Odom, under the alias of William Ryan, "caused the mailing of a letter to William Ryan at the Gov. Clinton Hotel in New York in furtherance of a scheme to defraud Augustine J. Cunningham by means of false representation."

The Post Office Department said Cunningham, 77, paid $423,771 to a syndicate of eight or nine persons. They were to recover some electrical patent rights bequeathed to him by a scientist, but authorities said the patent rights do not exist and the scientist was fictitious.

Patric H. Lennon, 50, former convict described as one of the slickest confidence men in the business, and Leo F. Hampton, 74, were arrested in New York last week and charged with masterminding the swindle scheme.

Accused Of Theft

FBI agents arrested Odom and Golden Oct. 12 as they checked out of a motel west of Baltimore.

They were brought here on charges of stealing $17,000 in cash and $10,000 in bonds on Oct. 11, 1949, from the home of A. Lee Green in LaVale, a suburb of Cumberland.

Odom's criminal record dates back to 1919 and includes an extortion term in New York's Sing Sing Prison.

Stock Market Reaches New Recovery High

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—The stock market with its fourth strong drive ahead today reached a new recovery high since the great break that followed news of the President's illness.

The market was at an historic peak when it began its reaction on Sept. 26. It hit bottom Oct. 11. Today it has regained two-thirds of that fall, as measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks which today advanced $1.60 and closed at $175.40.

Today's rise was due almost entirely to the strength of individual issues that shot ahead in response to dividend declarations or high earnings reports.

A typical situation was produced by General Motors. The new stock, resulting from a three-for-one split of the old, began trading today carrying with it an extra dividend of $1 declared Monday after the close. It was up 1 1/2 at 48 1/2.

Splits Expected

Du Pont, which holds some 63 million shares of GM stock, shot ahead 1 1/2 at 241 1/2.

A lot of stocks were higher because of Wall Street hopes that they will be split. In fact, any stock over 100 just about automatically gets into that class.

The industrial component of the Associated Press average was up $2.90, rails rose $3.10, and utilities edged up 10 cents.

The market was the broadest in more than six weeks with 1,226 individual issues traded of which 561 advanced and 404 declined with 32 new highs and 17 new lows for the year.

Volume stepped up to 2,580,000 shares as compared with 2,230,000 shares traded Monday before the election day recess.

Brokers could see no great impact on the market as a result of the elections, and they noted the conflicting claims by both parties of the significance of voting trends.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed with a slightly higher tendency. Volume came to 810,000 shares as compared with 760,000 shares Monday.

Corporate bonds were up. U. S. government issues over the counter were lower.

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

ALL OUT EFFORT FOR COMMUNITY CHEST was conducted yesterday at Delaware Water Gap grade school by third and fourth graders. Among those taking part were the pupils shown in this photograph. Children netted $18.15 in what Chest officials called "a remarkable and inspiring demonstration of the way in which the meaning of the Chest's drive is understood this year."

Water Gap Youngsters Raise $18.15 For Community Chest

DELAWARE WATER GAP—This borough's school building hit the sawdust yesterday in a three-ring circus complete with lions, sideshow attractions and barkers.

It was all for the good of the Monroe County Community Chest drive. When it was over, the Chest was $18.15 richer—not counting the million bucks worth of spirit, inspiration and sentiment that went along with the dimes, quarters and dollars.

The show was given by third and fourth graders at the school under supervision of their teacher, Mrs. Alys Morton. The performance began at 2 p. m.

Circus Atmosphere

Every effort was made to show and preserve the main spirit of a circus, parents who attended the show said. Like the two "popcorn men" (Diane Widdoss and Faith Lightner) who sold bags of hot popcorn up and down the length of the room.

The pupils were careful to point out to everyone attending that the performance was for the benefit of the Community Chest, however. To make sure no one missed this important point, Carol Rohaly was stationed in a prominent spot with a container used to collect Chest contributions.

In the usual circus performance the "ringmaster" is the hub of operations. It was the same way at the school with George Kulp calling the tricks as they came along, starting out with a bicycle act (Gary Snyder and John Siptroth) and continuing through a semi-misfired cannon act in which "daredevil" Charles Dutt got himself shot from the mouth of an oversized gun.

There was a juggling act (Linda Anthony and David Davis), a barrel walker who moved like a ballerina (Yohevet Geshensky), a magician (Ann Chamberlain) who miraculously made a dollar bill disappear then later made it spring back in sight again and a group of tumblers who did just about everything but go out the window.

50 Attend Show

Among the tumblers were Britton Dietrick, Cecelia Maxwell, Beth Shoemaker, Leslie Younkin, Deborah Ott, Douglas Ott, Linda Snyder and Sharon Rowlands.

In the sideshow were the tall man (Larry Lightner), midget (Cecelia Maxwell), bearded lady (Linda Widdoss), a strong man (Douglas Jennings), fat lady (Linda Snyder) and the clowns (Darlene Ott, Yohevet Geshensky, Larry Lightner, Linda Anthony, Linda Widdoss, John Siptroth, Marjorie and Susie Baldwin, Beth Shoemaker and Leslie Younkin).

A lion-taming act was another highlight, observers said. David Clarkston and William Walter were the "ferocious" lions while Eileen Sommers played the part of the girl lion-tamer and Johnny Siptroth was the regular lion-tamer who came to her rescue.

An estimated 50 persons attended the show. All proceeds from it go to the current Community Chest drive, Mrs. Morton said.

Girl Receives Minor Injuries When Hit By Car

SIX-YEAR-OLD Jeanette Gouger, 106 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, was injured slightly Tuesday when she ran into a car operated by Alfred Frantz, 21, of Stroudsburg, RD3.

Police said the mishap occurred at 3:40 p. m. when the youngster ran into the road from between two parked cars. Police said Frantz saw the child and was able to stop his car, although Jeanette ran into the side of the halted vehicle.

Frantz took the child to General Hospital for treatment for cuts and bruises of the leg. She was discharged.

Erie Becomes Third County To Approve Health Setup

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 9 (AP)—Erie County today became the third in Pennsylvania to approve a county health unit.

Voters endorsed the proposal yesterday, 19,040 to 5,530. Bucks County residents endorsed a similar plan last year. The other county in the state to have a health department now is Butler.

In Butler County, the commissioners put the plan on a trial basis. Voters will have a chance next year to say whether they want to keep it or scrap it.

County Director

Under the proposal, all public health operations in Erie County will come under the supervision of a county director.

The state, which is encouraging the establishment of health units, will pay part of the director's salary.

A state subsidy of up to 75 cents for each resident is offered to counties which set up such units. In Harrisburg, Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, state secretary of health, expressed confidence that "the people of Erie County will have better health services than heretofore."

Dr. Mattison said the people of Erie County have demonstrated their desire "to use their right of self determination as far as managing their local health affairs is concerned."

He added:

"County health departments intimately responsible to the local needs of the county and administered by competent and trained public health persons, have been shown time and time again to be the best method of administering programs for the prevention of illness, prolongation of life and promotion of maximum physical and mental well being — which is public health."

12-volt Electrical System

Packs twice the punch of ordinary 6-volt systems... spins the engine up to one-third faster when you turn the key. You get surer starting in all weather. And you have a greater electrical reserve supply.

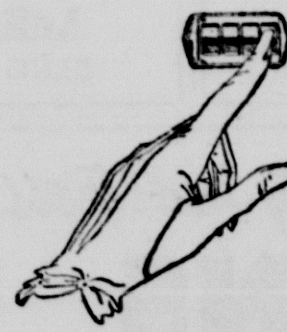

A new 6 with 140 H.P. The new "Blue-Flame" 6 brings you this higher horsepower plus a higher compression ratio (8 to 1) and hydraulic valve lifters.

THE HOT ONE'S EVEN HOTTER

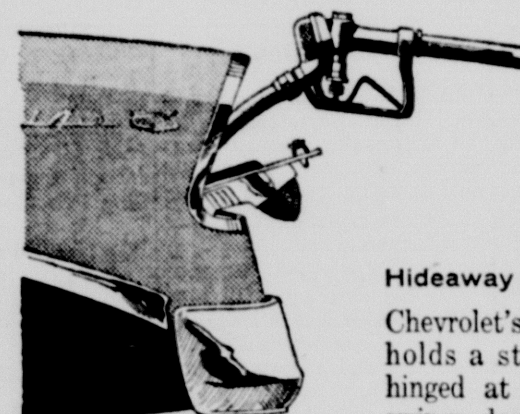

It's the Pikes Peak Record Breaker! The '56 Chevrolet proved its surer, safer driving control by breaking the record for the Pikes Peak run!

VS Horsepower Zooms to 205 That's the power the new "Super Turbo-Fire V8" pours out (an extra-cost option). The new "Turbo-Fire V8" delivers 170 h.p. when teamed with Powerglide (optional at extra cost).

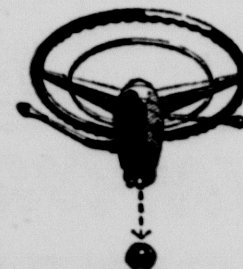

Everything in Automatic Power Features Power Steering, Power Brakes, power-positioned front seat, power controls for front and rear windows—everything you could wish for in power servants! All are optional at extra cost.

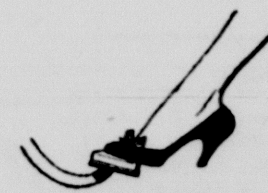

Hideaway Gas Cap

Chevrolet's left-side taillight holds a stylish secret. It's hinged at the bottom... swings down to uncover the gas cap. Closed up, the cap's concealed—and there's nothing in sight but the taillight!

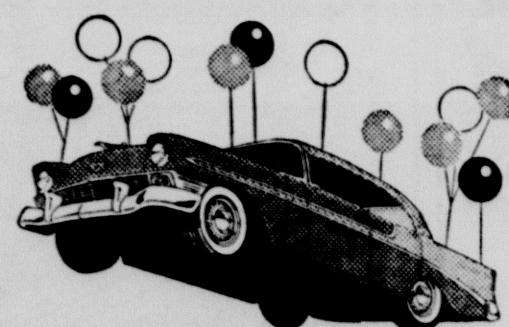

Steering made easy Ball bearings do you a good turn in Chevrolet's Ball-Race steering. They reduce friction and steering effort.

Anti-Dive braking

No "nose-dive" stops in a Chevrolet! Anti-Dive braking, an exclusive Chevrolet development, means more level stopping—even when you hit the brakes hard!

Floats over the bumps

At least it feels that way. Roads seem newly paved with Chevrolet's Glide-Ride front suspension and long outrigger rear springs soaking up the jolts. And Chevy's cat-footed on curves—holds the road like it loves it! Chevrolet performance puts your safety first!

Scattered Election Victories Give Democrats Fresh Hope

By Ed Creagh
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Democrats drew fresh hope for 1956 today from scattered election victories that gave them a record-smashing victory in the Kentucky governorship race and pushed them ahead in such battleground states as Pennsylvania, Indiana and Connecticut.

There were some Republican advances too, here and there, but virtually complete returns from yesterday's state and municipal elections showed a clear net advantage to the Democrats in the matter of organizational strength for next year's presidential election.

Focus On Indiana

Pennsylvania, Indiana and Connecticut—with a total of 53 electoral votes—all went Republican in the 1952 election while Kentucky voted Democratic by a razor-thin 700 votes.

Interest focused today on Indiana where sweeping Democratic gains in mayoral contests pointed up Democratic claims of farm belt unrest over Eisenhower administration agricultural policies.

Chandler Happy

Pennsylvania voters gave encouragement to the Democrats, too, Philadelphia elected Democrat Richardson Dilworth as its mayor with a resounding 130,000-vote margin over the Republican who ran with President Eisenhower's personal endorsement, W. Thacher Longstreth. The GOP suffered a net loss of five in Pennsylvania mayoral elections and suffered other reverses as well.

In Kentucky, former Baseball Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler was elected governor by a landslide approaching 150,000 votes over Republican Edwin R. Denney—despite a bitter primary fight that split the Democratic party.

And in Connecticut Democrats solidified 1954 victories by capturing the city administration of Waterbury—in GOP hands for eight years—and pushing ahead elsewhere in the state's municipal elections.

In other states, results were less conclusive. Democrats scored a net gain of one in New York mayoral races—an outcome claimed by both sides as a victory. To the surprise of both parties, which had supported it, a 750-million-dollar highway improvement bond issue was rejected by Empire State voters in an apparent revolt against more taxes and more spending.

Republican Gains

Republicans elected supervisors from Fairfax County, Va., for the first time in history and managed to keep control of the New Jersey Legislature, though losing three seats to Democrats.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall contended the off-year results depended on local issues and "had no national significance."

Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler claimed a growing trend toward his own party, however, and pointed to the Indiana outcome and to the rejection of Philadelphia's Longstreth and other Eisenhower-endorsed candidates as evidence.

Butler, Hall Interpret Vote Results In Different Lights

Before the election Tuesday, Republicans held 70 cities, Democrats 22, and independents 2. With two new cities electing Tuesday, the returns showed Democrats now have 72, Republicans 30, independents three and one race a tie.

OHIO:

Voters decisively rejected a proposal that would have sanctioned the supplemental layoff pay plan negotiated by auto manufacturers and the CIO United Auto Workers Union. Tied in with it was a proposed increase in state unemployment compensation benefits. The vote was 1,458,483 No, 870,755 Yes. Union officials predicted, however, enough states would approve dual employer and state jobless payments to put the auto agreements into effect on schedule June 1.

NEW YORK:

Democrats overturned Republican mayors in eight cities, including Troy and Schenectady, while Republicans overthrew six Democratic regimes. Democrats scored a net gain of one seat as they lost one other city to an independent. Six legislative vacancies were filled, but the relative two party strength in the Senate and Assembly remained unchanged.

CONNECTICUT:

Democrats regained Waterbury, which the Republicans had held for eight years; ousted an independent mayor in Norwalk, and strengthened their hold on New Haven. Republicans retained their hold on five Fairfield County towns—homes of thousands of New York commuters.

NEW JERSEY:

Republicans retained control of the State Legislature, but lost three Senate seats to reduce their margin to 14-7. It was 17-4. Their 40-20 margin in the Assembly was not disturbed. A Democrat was elected over a Republican incumbent as mayor of Paterson, the state's third largest city.

MASSACHUSETTS:

Mayor John R. Hynes won a third term in a nonpartisan race in Boston, defeating a fellow Democrat. Elsewhere, eight of 21 mayors seeking reelection were unseated. In partisan contests, the Democratic mayor of Brockton lost to a Republican and Democratic incumbents in Springfield and Northampton were reelected.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

I don't know how Republican men reacted yesterday to the results of the election, but the Republican women responded by putting on a little brighter dress, a little fancier hat, some of their more glittering jewelry and be-tok themselves to the meeting.

The Daily Record won another kind of election race—the race against time on election night. Returns came in like clockwork—so fast in fact that nobody had time to figure up who was ahead at any given moment until the final tabulation.

Certainly machine elections are a lot more efficient—but not nearly so cozy. I can remember when a whole fleet of election night reporters fanned out to cover the county, waiting at the polling places to snatch the returns as soon as they'd been counted.

And it was an all-night job in some cases where you waited hours with the tellers droning one-two-three-four-tally on into the dawn. November elections were always cold, too—particularly when you had to copy returns by flash-light from the ones posted on the doors of the darkened election houses.

This time, everything was finished so early that there wasn't even any need to send out for coffee and sandwiches, and everything was cleared up by midnight. Efficiency is wonderful—but sometimes much duller than inefficiency.

MISS VIRGINIA May Brink, daughter of Mrs. Lois Brink, Stroudsburg, and William Brink of Scranton, is celebrating her 21st birthday today.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

This is the second in a series of articles about deservedly famous companies old and new that serve the American public thru fine stores such as A. B. Wyckoff.

A fine wine, we are told, should be savored three ways. It should be held to the light and enjoyed for the richness and beauty of its color . . . the glass should be cradled and warmed by the hands and occasionally passed beneath the nostrils so one might appreciate the fragrance. Only then should the drink be tasted.

The same principle might be applied to gifts . . . for in these days of increasingly glamorous wrappings, ribbons, and ideas, the thrill of the gift is a spark of electricity in the air the moment an unusual package makes its appearance. Whether it is small or large, extravagant or trifling, a gift, to be truly superior, must be as beautifully wrapped as it was carefully chosen . . . it must be enjoyed from "outside in."

The proof that you . . . and you . . . and you agree with me is evident every day in the busy-ness of our Wyckoff Gift Wrap Center, and in the fact that our Blanche Mackey is increasingly in demand for demonstrations of her art before schools and clubs. Just the other evening, for instance, Blanche, and some of the most exciting, star-spangled parcels you could ever hope to see, appeared before the November meeting of the Saylorsburg Woman's Club.

Much of Blanche's talent is instinctive . . . but her actual training, papers and ribbons come from Chicago Printed String Company, makers of Tie-Tie Gift Wrappings, used in our Gift Wrap Center and sold in our stationery department.

The history of this famous company and the gift wrapping industry in America are practically synonymous. Actually, the lustrous, gossamer-soft Tie-Tie ribbons we know today are a far cry from the original "Eastband"—a non-woven tape originated in Germany during the 1880's for use as braiding in women's hats. Nevertheless, this hat tape was the forerunner of all gift ties.

At the century's turn, a cylindrical printing press was developed that made it possible to print words or slogans on Eastband. This innovation, called "printed string," was sold as an advertising novelty and became the sole product of two partners in Chicago, who, in 1915, formed a small company for its manufacture.

From this meager beginning with printed string—now called Print-Ad-String, the enterprising company began dyeing the cotton yarns attractive colors and winding them on metal spools. Merchants now found them both decorative and attractive for wrapping customers' parcels. Later when the public began asking for similar ribbons for gift wrapping, this same cotton tie was made available on cardboard spools—and Tie-Tie Ribbonette made its debut.

Sometime thereafter it was discovered that by putting a crimped effect into the ribbon as it came off the assembly machine, one could make a very simple and attractive spiral by merely running a length of Tie-Tie Ribbonette between one's thumb and the dull edge of a knife. By 1931 this "original curling cotton gift tie" was tremendously popular, and being displayed on retail counters everywhere.

Because a gift tie is but half of a gaily wrapped package, Chicago Printed String Company in 1932 developed a line of gift wrapping papers, designed to harmonize with the steadily expanding line of Ribbonette, which by that time appeared in scores of colors, widths, and spool sizes.

Needless to say, the company is still exploring new fields to make gift giving increasingly pleasurable to donor as well as recipient.

In 1947 a glistening, lustrous rayon yarn tie was added to the established line. Cascading in brilliant colors from the production machines it reminded everyone of a rainbow, and was christened Satintone. Since that time both this beautiful "baby" and Tie-Tie Ribbonette have been placed on sale in varied widths from 3/16" to 1 1/4", and on spools priced from 10c to 2.50. Also, because tying packages can be fun and is a form of magic easy to learn and practice, the manufacturer has printed millions of instruction booklets, showing how to tie handsome packages for every occasion.

The Tie-Tie story is a wonderful one, and we can't help being "wapturous" about it. It is true beyond doubt that in its history from the printed cotton string of forty years ago to 1955's completely integrated line of over 2000 items, Chicago Printed String Company reflects all that is finest in our American heritage of perseverance and foresight in a free, competitive economy.

Eden Charges Reds Creating War Tensions

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden tonight accused the Soviet Union of creating war tensions in Europe and the Middle East.

The British leader said it was impossible to reconcile Soviet actions with protestations that they wish to end the cold war in the new spirit of Geneva.

Eden denounced attempts to keep Germany divided but reserved his heaviest attack on the Russians for shipping arms to the Arabs. The Prime Minister gave the traditional outline of British foreign policy at the annual lord mayor's dinner in the City of London.

While describing reports from Geneva as not good, Eden said as a veteran of many negotiations with the Russians that they were not surprising either. And he added, "I have therefore only three comments to make on the present state of discussions at Geneva."

Three Criticisms
"First, to attempt to keep Germany divided for a further indefinite period, 10 years after the war is ended, adds to the dangers in Europe and is no contribution to peace."

"Secondly, Germany, like other countries, must be free to make her own decision as to her political future by the free voice of her people. In other words, she is entitled to free elections. It is indefensible to hold that free elections cannot take place because the Communist system in East Germany must be preserved."

"Thirdly, the Western nations and Soviet Russia, have reason to recall the experience of past years. Mutual undertakings should therefore be given and taken against any act of aggression in Europe. This is the most effective assurance we have been able to devise. If it can be improved upon, let other suggestions be made."

While somewhat reserved in his remarks on the Geneva talks now under way, Eden let loose with a full-blast attack on the Russians for shipping arms to the Arabs.

Red Cross records show that at least 100 lives a year are saved because of its training of people in first aid and water safety.

Alco Claims World War II Orders Gave General Motors Head Start In Diesel Field

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Two locomotive builders testified today the government gave General Motors a "head start" in the diesel-electric field and this helped the corporation become even more dominant in locomotives than in autos.

William F. Lewis, vice president of Alco Products, Inc., told a House Judiciary subcommittee that GM got the jump on its rivals during World War II, when the government allocated production responsibility.

General Motors was given the responsibility for mass-producing "road" diesels, Lewis said, and thus had a "tremendous" advantage over other companies who couldn't get hold of materials to make diesel locomotives for "road" service. Road engines are those which pull trains from station to station as contrasted with switching engines.

Asks For Copies

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), chairman of the Senate Antitrust group which is studying GM as an example of corporate "giantism," immediately asked Lewis to supply the subcommittee with copies of the wartime orders.

The senator recalled that it was "frequently alleged at the time" that the War Production Board was staffed with industry people. "If they didn't exactly favor the companies from which they came," O'Mahoney said, at least they might have been in a position to do so.

"According to your testimony," he told Lewis, "those orders changed the direction of this industry and placed a handicap on the pioneers in the diesel field." But Bruce Bromley, general counsel for Alco, quickly interposed:

No Complaint

"We have no complaint about this. We feel it was clearly in the national interest."

Bromley explained that General Motors was equipped for volume production of road-type diesels, while Alco's greatest production potential was in the switch engine business.

V. H. Peterson, vice president of Fairbanks Morse and Co., told the subcommittee that the sheer size and financial strength of GM "doesn't make it any easier to compete with them."

"It's pretty difficult for a lightweight to go against Marcano, (heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano) isn't it?" remarked O'Mahoney.

When they first built model houses for the natives in Casablanca, the French installed running water, but furious protests from the women who enjoyed gossip sessions at the community well induced them to abandon the practice.

Monroe County League To Assign Officials For Basketball Campaign At Next Meeting

TANNERSVILLE—A discussion of basketball schedules and officials highlighted a meeting of coaches and principals of Monroe County League schools here at Pocono High School on Tuesday.

Pocono, Barrett, Polk, Chestnuthill, Coolbaugh and Tobyhanna Township were all represented at the gathering.

Difficulties of scheduling and the many problems concerning officials highlighted the meeting.

Lengthy discussions were held on the officiating problems and further action will take place next Monday, when the circuit holds another business session.

Al Sterner, secretary-treasurer of the Stroudsburg Chapter of Approved Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association Basketball Officials, agreed to present a full list of chapter members and their open dates during the coming campaign.

According to plans officials will be assigned for the coming season at next Monday's meeting. The meeting is scheduled for 1 p. m. and will be attended by every representative school.

Carbone Suffers Knee Injury During ESSTC Grid Practice

DON CARBONE, former Pen Argyl High football star, may be lost to the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College squad for the final game of the season against Cheyney on Saturday.

Carbone, running for the second team in a scrimmage session yesterday, was tackled after sweeping end for several yards.

As he fell to the turf he suffered a damaged right knee and was forced from the practice field.

Limping

After a hot shower and treatment the highly regarded halfback walked with a noticeable limp.

Other than Carbone the Warriors are expected to be at full strength for the season's finale.

The Pennsylvania State Teachers College Football Conference tussle is slated to be played at Lincoln, Pa., on Cheyney's home grounds. The kickoff is set for 2 p. m.

ESSTC has a conference mark of two wins and a pair of setbacks, while the overall record is three favorable decisions and three of the unfavorable variety.

Current Mark

Crowe's leggers are currently sporting a record of 28 points won and four lost.

Gebhardt's Bowling, Bethlehem, is in second place with 19 points on the won side of the ledger and 13 on the lost side.

Crowe's contingent returns to action at Harmon's Recreation on Saturday, with fourth place Parkway, Phillipsburg, providing the opposition. Action is carded for 8 p. m.

ESSTC Deadlocks Panzer In Soccer

Overtime Play Fails To Decide Issue

EAST Stroudsburg State Teachers College finished its soccer season yesterday by battling Panzer College to a 1-1 deadlock in a double overtime period contest on the Normal Hill field.

The tie was the third of the season for the Warriors, who have also dropped three decisions and accounted for one victory. Panzer has one win, two ties and a pair of setbacks.

Yesterday's contest went into virtual darkness before the two arch foes decided to call it quits.

ESSTC kept constant pressure on the Panzer defense, but the brilliant work of Don Musselman in the visiting goal turned aside all but one threat.

Musselman's brilliant performance deprived the Warriors of almost certain victory.

Opening Goal

Panzer opened the scoring in the first period when Bob Tisdale, a substitute, fired the ball into the nets just beyond the reach of Terry Hawk at the 15-10 mark.

Howard "Howie" Staeger, the transplanted goalie, evened the count at 19:50 of the second period when the home town center forward booted the only ball past Musselman.

The second half and both overtime periods were played in scoreless fashion.

Prior to the game the Warriors elected Bob Smith and Lee Hill, both four-year veterans, as co-captains of the squad for the season.

The election took place in the ESSTC locker room.

Smith is a resident of Benton, Pa., and Hill lives in Fleetwood, Pa. Hill was coached in high school by Arthur "Bud" Heckman, former basketball and baseball mentor at Pocono High, Tannersville.

The Warriors scored 13 goals in seven games as against 18 for the opposition. ESSTC didn't suffer a single shutout.

ESSTC failed to win after downing Elizabethtown College in the first game of the current campaign.

Lineups follow:

ESSTC (D)	Panzer (D)
Hack	Musselman
E. Smith	Ostrowski
K. Smith	Bolek
Roscher	Poddens
Mohr	Menary
Davitt	O'Dell
Leatherman	Nielson
Pegeck	Nieth
Staeger	Perillo
Hill	Schaure
Schaure	Casperson

Score by periods:

Period	ESSTC	Panzer
1st	0	1
2nd	1	0
Total	1	1

ESSTC scoring:—Staeger, Panzer: Tisdale, Panzer substitutes:—Gecome, Wollarth, Fulton, Tisdale, Jones, Fischer, Vanderhille. ESSTC substitutes:—J. Smith, Zintel, Lameym, Maiorillo, Bright, Rice.

Next In Line

Next to them is Kansas State with 23 fumbles lost and Kansas and Wichita with 22 each.

Another oddity is in the making if the figures remain relatively unchanged until the Army-Navy game. Navy is second in total defense and is No. 1 on pass defense.

Army, which seldom passes but has a good ground attack, is second only to Maryland in rushing defense but nowhere among the leaders in pass defense. Apparently they'll be playing to each other's weaknesses.

Saxton Completely Dominates Bout While Piling Up Ten-Round Decision Over Jones

OAKLAND, Calif., Nov. 9 (AP)—Ex-welterweight champion Johnny Saxton gave away 10 pounds and tossed in a free boxing lesson to boot tonight as he won an unanimous decision over Ralph "Tiger" Jones in a 10-round nationally televised fight.

Saxton weighed 148½ to Jones' 158½.

The sharp-shooting Saxton, flicking a razor sharp left into Jones' face, was in command virtually all the way. The heavier Jones, noted for his two-fisted attack, never was able to open up before the former champion's superior boxing.

Reference Fred Apostoli scored the fight 56½ to 53½. Judge Eddie Jones had it 56-54 and Judge Jack Downey 57 to 53.

The Associated Press card had Saxton winner, 57-53, under the 11-point California scoring system.

Saxton, the No. 2 contender for the welter title he held for six months, was the underdog going into the fight, but he kept in full charge all the way.

He improved as he went along, particularly in the last two rounds. Then he reached the point of actually toying with his heavier opponent. Saxton is scheduled to meet the winner of the welterweight title fight Nov.

30 between champion Carmen Basilio and Tony DeMarco.

Late in the fight Saxton opened a cut under Jones' right eye which dripped blood in the ninth and 10th rounds.

Time and again Saxton had Jones so baffled that the veteran middleweight, himself a sixth contender in his own class, stood flat-footed in apparent bewilderment. From the ringside it looked like a terrier pestering a mastiff.

The fight was Jones' eighth appearance on television this year and one of his less promising shows.

Lehigh Star Second In Scoring Race

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9 (AP)—Bill White, hard running Westminster College back, collected three touchdowns on Saturday against Allegheny to solidify his hold on the Pennsylvania collegiate individual football scoring lead.

White, who has led the poll for the past three weeks, raced 81, and 54 yards and plunged for a yard for his three scores as undefeated but once tied Westminster romped over Allegheny 34-0. White now has 11 touchdowns in six games for 66 points.

Second

Lehigh's Dan Nolan, moved from third to second place in the standings as the season headed into its two final big weeks of action. Nolan scored once in Lehigh's 39-0 win over VMI to up his total to 49 points on eight TDs and a single conversion.

Just behind Nolan is a newcomer to the top scorers, Joe Gernerser of Moravian. Gernerser moved from third to second place in the standings as the season headed into its final big weeks of action.

Gernerser moved into contention with three scores for Moravian against Ursinus. He has eight touchdowns in six games for 48 points. Mike Karas, the early season pacesetter from Geneva, fell from second to fourth place as he failed to score for the second straight weekend. Karas still has 44 points on seven TDs and a pair of conversions.

Former Star May Return

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9 (AP)—Temple University said yesterday that Gus Braccia, who played three years on its football team, withdrew as a student before the fall semester began and registered at Queen's University in Kingston, Ont.

Josh Cody, Temple's athletic director and football coach, said Braccia withdrew "in good standing" and can return to the Philadelphia institution to complete his physical education course.

Opening

Cody said Braccia could complete his studies at Temple but could not play football or other sports because his eligibility has run out.

The background on Braccia was disclosed after Sports Editor Jack Park of the London (Ont) Free Press said in a column that Braccia, quarterback on the Queen's Golden Gaels team, is registered at Temple.

Park wrote that he understood that Braccia "plans to return there (Temple) to graduate."

Under Temple's eligibility rules, the school said, Braccia could return and complete his course.

Cage Group To Retain Same Officers

A TOTAL of 20 members of the Stroudsburg Chapter of Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association Approved Basketball Officials attended the organization's first meeting of the year at radio station WVFO last night.

The total included several students from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Number one topic of business was a discussion of new rules and the various changes to be handled by officials during a basketball game this season.

Problems

Other various problems facing officials also came up before the group.

The body decided to operate with the same officers this season as guided the association last year. The officers are Tom Leonard, president, Jack Kist, vice president, and Al Sterner, secretary-treasurer.

Leonard was in charge of last night's meeting.

The next gathering is scheduled for Monday, November 28, at a place to be decided.

TUESDAY'S big deal between the Washington Senators and Boston Red Sox took on a local aspect when Mickey Vernon became the big name in the transaction. The new Boston first sacker was the guest speaker at last Wednesday's Pocono Little League Banquet, at which time he made a terrific hit with adults and youngsters alike. The very mention of Mickey's name made the transaction a local matter.

Vernon and this reporter had a lengthy discussion during the above mentioned banquet and at that time there was only three teams mentioned, namely Washington, Cleveland and Boston. It certainly wasn't surprising to hear Vernon say that he was pleased with the transaction. He realizes that the Senators aren't going anywhere next season, due to the lack of farm material, while the Red Sox are now a distinct threat for the pennant. The deal was a shot for a Boston pennant in the next season or two.

Joe Paparella, American League umpire, may speak at the Pocono Mountains Baseball League banquet a week from Saturday, according to reports making the rounds. Stroudsburg High can take some bows for Lehigh's surprise 7-6 verdict over Catasauqua last Saturday. The Mountaineers gave the Rough Riders a real going over the previous weekend while dropping a hard fought 6-0 verdict. Lehigh, a vastly underrated club all year, followed up with an important triumph.

Frank Thomas, president of the Pocono Little League during the past campaign, passed out all sorts of awards last Wednesday at the annual banquet. But, didn't receive any in return. This column is of the opinion that Thomas is deserving of an award for the courage and clear thinking he displayed during the past campaign. It took a man of great courage to halt play last summer when things were going bad and make the necessary repairs, thus guaranteeing a successful campaign.

This reporter was thrilled with the award presented to him and will remember the occasion always. Evan Reese, injured East Stroudsburg High junior varsity quarterback, would appreciate receiving cards and letters from his friends. He is currently a patient at the Monroe County General Hospital. Frank Lupin is learning the quarterback assignments at East Stroudsburg in case of emergency, but will do virtually all his work at halfback.

Gene Plaza, co-captain of the East Stroudsburg High grid machine, will have the cast removed from his injured knee on Saturday, but he won't be able to face Nazareth. Gene is making the rounds with the assistance of a cane at the present time. Ronnie Stopp, quarterback for the Stroudsburg football squad, is working only lightly at present because of a damaged knee, but will be ready for action against Northampton on Saturday.

The loss suffered by Port Jervis at East Stroudsburg last Friday, by a 7-6 margin, was unexpected by the coaching staff of the visiting squad. Port Jervis High is said to have one of the best grid squads in southeastern New York state. Joe Viglione, assistant mentor on the Port Jervis staff, is a graduate of Bangor High School, where he first placed football. Joe is also a graduate of Moravian College.

Joe Heard, former three-letter athlete at Bangor High, is now playing football for Moravian, after passing up the first two years of football at college. He's a defensive halfback and also plays basketball and baseball. Rodney Miller and Jack Stenlake, teammates of Heard's at Bangor, also play in the current Moravian backfield. Willie Pitt, Whitehall High coach, will direct the Lehigh County All-Stars in a post-season football game with the Northampton County All-Stars.

Easton High's Bob Rute will coach the Northampton stars. Al Erdosy, Northampton, and Luke Lobb, Emmaus, will be two of four assistants under Rute, while Bart Kuczyński, Catasauqua; Fred Snyder, Stroudsburg, and Ray Snyder, Parkland, are listed among Pitt's assistants. Don Herman, former East Stroudsburg High football star, was one of the outstanding wingmen on the field for Muhlenberg last Saturday as the injury riddled Mules outlasted Temple, 7-6. Joe Shea, another former East Stroudsburg High grid star, would definitely be a starting tackle for Army at this point in the campaign if he wasn't forced to undergo surgery for a knee injury.

East Stroudsburg-Nazareth Tickets On Sale

Capacity Crowd Expected For Title Contest

EAST Stroudsburg's Memorial Stadium is expected to play host to its largest crowd of the current football season on Saturday afternoon when East Stroudsburg and Nazareth High Schools battle for the Lehigh-Northampton League football championship.

Lewis R. Hastie, faculty athletic manager at East Stroudsburg, last night announced that both student and adult tickets will go on sale at Lloyd's Sporting Goods Store, 123 Crystal St. this morning.

The advance sale is being held so as to greatly reduce the admission lines at the ticket booths on Saturday.

Both student and adult tickets will go on sale today and remain on sale through Friday night. Student tickets are priced at 40 cents and adults at 90 cents.

This is the most important game of the season for East Stroudsburg as the Cavaliers are shooting for their first football championship in history. Both East Stroudsburg and Nazareth are undefeated against circuit opposition.

The Cavaliers have beaten Pen Argyl, Bangor and Wilson Borough, while Nazareth has run over Bangor and Pen Argyl. Nazareth battles Wilson Borough on Thanksgiving Day.

Fans planning on watching the contest are urged to come well before the 2 p.m. kickoff.

The Varsity "E" Club plans special decorations for the field, including a checker board endzone, and a special pep meeting will be held at East Stroudsburg High School today.

Saturday's outing is the last home game of the season for the Cavaliers.

While East Stroudsburg and Nazareth are battling at Memorial Stadium, Stroudsburg and unbeaten Northampton will be clashing in a Lehigh Valley League grid tussle on the latter's home field.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will complete its campaign on Saturday when the Warriors invade the home domain of Cheyney in a Pennsylvania State Teachers College Football Conference clash.

Law Partner Quits Orioles

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Clyde Morris followed his law partner, Clarence W. Miles, out of the official family running the Baltimore Orioles today.

Morris resigned as secretary-treasurer two days after Miles quit as president of the American baseball league team.

Same Reason
Morris, like Miles, gave their law business as the reason.

"I feel the time has come when in all fairness to our law partners," he said, "I also should assume the work which they have had to do for us during the period we have been connected with baseball."

Nine Coaches Feel Sting Of Axe On Major League Clubs

By Joe Reichler

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—It may not be apparent, but the major leagues, since the close of the 1955 baseball season, have been carrying out a quiet but grim purge against the usually inviolate band of coaches, a check disclosed today.

So far, nine lieutenants have been given the axe and more are sure to follow before the curtain is raised for the 1956 campaign. A year ago, the finger was put on the managers when nine pilots were relieved of their duties. This year only three managers have been replaced.

The biggest upheaval took place on the New York Giants where Bill Rigney succeeded Leo Durocher as manager. The new pilot wielded a relentless broom on the brain trust department, sweeping out the entire coaching staff.

Those who felt the sting were Freddy Hutchinson, Herman Franks and Frank Shehenback. In their place came Buckey Walters and Davey Williams. A third coach, Ray Mueller, is expected to be named any day now.

Keeps One

Freddy Hutchinson was not quite as thorough in St. Louis when he replaced Harry Walker as Cardinal manager. His first official action was to hand pink slips to Coaches Lou Kahn and Johnny Riddle leaving only Pitching Coach Bill Posedel unscathed. Terry Moore and Johnny Hopp, a pair of old Redbirds stars, were brought back in a move to regain the fans.

The Braves, unhappy in their perennial bridegroom role, also made two coaching changes. They gave Walters his release to accept the Giant job, dropped Johnny Cooney and replaced them with Fred Haney and Charlie Root.

Cincinnati and Detroit have made coaching changes, too. Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Reds recently named Frank McCormick, the former Cincinnati slugger, to fill the third base coaching spot left vacant by the resignation of Dick Bartell. The Tigers released Schoolboy Rowe and replaced him with Joe Gordon, the former acrobatic second baseman of the Yankees and Indians.

A couple of Pittsburgh coaches, Sam Narron and John FitzPatrick, are breathing uneasy following the change in Pirate management.

Bobby Bragan, who succeeded Haney at the Pittsburgh helm, has announced he plans to retain Clyde Sukeforth but made no mention of the other two.

And the baseball season doesn't open until April 17.

Social Outcast Favored In International

LAUREL, Nov. 9 (AP)—Social Outcast finally outran the youthful obscurity that matched his name and was picked today as the probable favorite over a dozen other thoroughbreds in Friday's International.

The last and hesitant entry for the $65,000 mile and a half grass race was listed at 3-1 by the mutual department of Laurel.

He was rated a shade over Traffic Judge, one of the three other United States entries, at 4-1.

Third Entry

Another U. S. entry, Mister Gus, will start the betting at 6-1. England's Nucleus and Ireland's Pangloss are coupled at 8-1. Aeschylus of the U. S. and Darius of England are at 10-1, and France's Mahan is a 13-1 shot.

All the others are 20-1.

Consideration even as the probable favorite in such a diversified field climaxes a long uphill run for Social Outcast. He started racing as a crumb picker in the stable of Alfred G. Vanderbilt in 1953 and today is the seventh leading money winner of all time.

Horse Sales Set Record

HARRISBURG, Nov. 9 (AP)—The standardbred horse sale today passed the million dollar mark at the earliest stage in its 17-year history as 214 trotters and pacers were sold for $576,050.

Today's sales raised the three-day total to $1,152,760 for 621 head, an average price of $1,856. The best previous three days for the sale were last year when 578 head brought $944,275.

Yearlings

Two yearlings by the $500,000 sire Adios topped today's session with Adios Pick going for $24,000 to trainer-driver Billy Haughton, Massapequa, N. Y., and Adios Express going for $21,000 to Sol Camp, Shafter, Calif.

Story Reports Trade Made To Pay Taxes

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Washington had to "sell" Mickey Vernon and Bob Porterfield to the Boston Red Sox to raise cash for inheritance taxes, says a column by John O'Donnell, carrying a Washington dateline, in today's New York Daily News.

O'Donnell wrote . . . to get the money to meet U. S. Treasury demands, the owners of the Washington baseball club sold their stars to the Boston Red Sox, turned the dough over to the U. S. Treasury and can expect—as they do—a whitening down of the Washington gate receipts (oh, yes, we know all about those stories that it was a no-cash deal).

Denial

A spokesman for the Senators denied the story, repeating yesterday's statement that no cash was involved in the deal.

He added that the inheritance taxes posed no problem for the Griffiths, since the will of Clark Griffith specifically provided for payment of these levies.

Additionally, the spokesman said, the estate was not that large that the inheritance taxes could cause a major hardship.

Basilio Predicts Victory In Title Bout With DeMarco

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—Carmen Basilio, the onion-picker who became welterweight champion of the world, today predicted he would lick Tony DeMarco soundly Nov. 30 when Basilio risks for the first time the shiny crown he won from the Boston fighter in June.

Carmen said he was in better shape now than when he wrested the title from Demarco by stopping him in the 12th round of a bloody, bruising battle before a packed auditorium here.

Asked before his daily workout about comments from some of his fans that he was crazy to risk the championship in DeMarco's home town, Basilio shot back:

"What are they worrying about. We're gonna win the fight."

"I'm going to beat him convincingly. After I finish beating him there just won't be any chance of a decision going to DeMarco."

"I'm not afraid of Boston. He wasn't afraid to fight in my home town."

Senators To Give Stadium New Look

By Herb Altschall
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The new look on the Washington Senators isn't going to involve only new faces, it turned out today. It's also going to involve new dimensions. Calvin Griffith, the club's new president, said he's going to have both the left and centerfield fences moved in, cutting some 20 feet off the home run distance in the most formidable ball park for distance hitters in the major leagues.

At the same time, Griffith let it be known he's still plotting trades in hopes of adding more new faces before the start of the 1956 season. Yesterday, Griffith closed a deal with the Boston Red Sox that will bring five young players to Washington.

Griffith is attempting to deal with the Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees, seeking to bolster his infield and to add a solid lefthanded pitcher. As trade bait, he is said to be dangling the likes of infielders Pete Runnels and Eddie Yost and pitchers Mickey McDermott and Camilo Pascual.

Silence
This is all off the record. Griffith is maintaining a stubborn silence about his future moves, but it's no secret he would like to have Gil McDougald of the Yankees or Bobby Avila or Don Mossi of the Indians.

Griffith has not yet decided on just how Griffith Stadium will look next season. For one thing, the temporary stands now being used for football games make measurements a bit difficult.

But, Griffith said, "we're definitely going to put a fence inside the park, and will determine where we'll put it after the football season."

Seats will be installed behind the fence and in front of the bleachers for both opening day and the All-Star game here next July 10. Whether or not the seats will be a permanent fixture has not yet been determined.

"We have some fellows who figure to benefit by a shorter distance," Griffith said, singling out Yost, Roy Sievers, Carlos Paula and Karl Olson, one of the five players acquired from the Red Sox.

The distance into the leftfield corner is now 386 feet, 21 feet longer than the second farthest shot, 365 feet in Forbes field, Pittsburgh.

Harvard Guard Makes National Bid

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 9 (AP)—Capt. Bill Meigs has Harvard's football followers harking back to the glory days though the Crimson isn't chewing up the Ivy League. Meigs, 20, second team All America guard a year ago, strengthened his bid for national recognition last Saturday by leading Harvard to its second successive triumph over favored Princeton.

The North Braddock, Pa., native has played a consistently outstanding game through all the shifting fortunes of the Harvard team in the past three years. He uses his defensive skills to cover up for some of his less able mates.

Comparison
He's been compared favorably with the last Harvard All America, Endicott (Chub) Peabody of the 1941 squad. Meigs' job in fashioning the 7-6 triumph over Princeton last Saturday marked the first time Harvard had beaten the Tigers at home since 1942.

In the Princeton game, which Harvard Coach Lloyd Jordan called "one of Bill's better games of the season," Meigs personally stopped one drive, then forced a fumble which led to the Crimson touchdown.

"Barring mistakes and poor physical condition, football games are won by teams that react the fastest," Coach Bud Wilkinson of the undefeated Sooners said. "We are doing very well in this department."

The Sooners go after their 27th straight victory this Saturday when they play host to Iowa State. They've already wrapped up a bid to the Orange Bowl and were voted the No. 1 team in the nation in The Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters.

Quizzed
Wilkinson was being quizzed on the team speed that has bewildered so many opponents this year.

He said he didn't think his players were any bigger or tougher than many of the teams they played; they just reacted better.

"Speed is a very misleading word," Wilkinson said. "In football, the speed that is important is in a player's reaction to a different situation. As a team, we've been reacting well, but I'm sure there are squads who might possibly outrun us in a foot race."

The Boat-a-Cade nears Camp Kicco, on the Kissimmee river, for first overnight stop.

THE SIXTH ANNUAL Kissimmee-Okeechobee Boat-a-Cade from Lake Tohopekaliga to Lake Okeechobee was a success this year. If the preceding sentence sounds like crazy, mixed-up Indian language, here's the translation. This year some 600 boats carrying about 1,600 persons shoved off from the shores of Florida's Lake Tohopekaliga, in the northern tip of Oseola county, and headed down the Kissimmee river to Lake Okeechobee. This Boat-a-Cade is for boating enthusiasts and consists of an over-water trek through dense, jungle-bounded waterways. Represented in the two-day voyage were boating fans from every section of Florida as well as from 23 other states. A celebration greeted the "seafarers" when they reached their goal.

SIGNS OF CIVIC INTEREST—Two Phoenix, Ariz., real estate men, hoping to divert some of Los Angeles' population to their city, erected a signboard asking residents if they had "Had Enough" of smog, rain and poor traffic conditions. This, of course, made the Los Angeles dwellers angry, so they countered with these four pickets.

BIGGEST TOY YET—Two happy youngsters, Lynne Meyer and Jason Kappanadze, guide the largest gift ever given Cleveland children into its last "roundhouse" atop an $11,600 pedestal in a city park. The 850,000-pound steam locomotive was given to the city by the Eastern Railroad Presidents conference as a permanent memorial so children could see the vehicle which played a big role in nation's history.

FREEDOM AFTER FIVE YEARS—Mrs. Erica Glaser Wallach, 33 (right), joins the happy list of those freed from Russian prison camps. Here she's being greeted by her mother after arriving in West Berlin, Germany. She was arrested in Berlin's eastern sector.

Wells Heads Kiwanis Club; Stoner Reports On Progress Of Eastburg Housing Project

WILLIAM P. WELLS, a department manager of the Wyckoff department store, was elected president of the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club for the coming year at the meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Other officers elected follow: Immediate past president, Detlef A. Hansen; first vice president, Elwood Hintze; second vice president, Rev. Roger C. Stinson; treasurer, John E. Watt. The secretary will be chosen by the new board.

Directors elected are: J. Thomas Campbell, John R. Lesoine, W. R. McClelland, Chester S. Miller, Eric Schuchard, H. L. Sutton and Charles F. Grace. Induction of officers takes place the first meeting of the new year.

J. Herbert Stoner, coordinator of flood damage in East Stroudsburg, spoke on the rehabilitation housing project in that borough. He was presented by C. B. Altmore, program chairman.

Street Work Started

Mr. Stoner said the housing project will be located at Crestwood Heights in the E. Broad St. area. The land was donated to the borough anonymously and has capacity of some 70 building lots. Work on installing shale covered streets outlined by Edward C. Hess, borough engineer, is now under way.

Stoner explained the procedures for securing lots on which to erect homes, the restrictions, financing and many other details. Lots are available to sufferers from the Aug. 18 flood. This covers not only owners who lost their properties, but also tenants of damaged homes. Quite a number of the latter, Stoner said, did not want to return to their former homes for various reasons.

The idea, the speaker said, is to make available some 45 lots and it will be a case of first come, first served. Thus far, he said, some 40 applications had been received. These are referred to the building, central and planning committees.

Questionnaires Filed

Applicants must file answers to questionnaires as to size of families and their needs, financial ability and are also given personal interviews, if qualified. Buildings must be completed within a year from the middle of last October unless there are necessary delays. Style of homes are also gone into, he said. Stoner pointed out the project does not conflict with Rev. Stinson's Federal low rent housing project.

The cost of the shale streets is estimated at some $15,000 with $9,000 in two commitments toward expenses available at this time, Stoner said. Much interest was shown by his hearers and a number of questions were propounded for further clarification.

Richard F. Hagmayer, of Stroudsburg, affiliated with the Atlantic Refining Co., as sales manager, was introduced and welcomed as a new member.

President Hansen, successful candidate for district attorney, and John R. Lesoine, who won out as a county commissioner, were congratulated by their fellow club members.

Announcement was made the Kiwanis and Rotary volleyball teams would compete at the Y gym this afternoon at 5:30.

Forrest Smith, Stroudsburg, and Francis H. Brinkley, Endicott, N. Y., were welcomed as guests. Song period was in charge of Dr. Earl Wulhite and Numa J. Snyder.

Twice-Monthly Reports Likely

WASHINGTON 10 — The Labor Department is considering reporting the nation's job trends twice a month.

Commissioner Evan Clague of the department's bureau of labor statistics says his agency may request key manufacturing firms to report employment data on the first of each month. This would supplement the present midmonth reports.

Diplomat's Daughter To Speak Here

A VIEW of world affairs seen through the eyes of a diplomat's daughter will be the key feature at a convocation this morning in State Teachers College auditorium.

The speaker will be Miss Guri Lie, daughter of Trygve Lie, former secretary-general of the United Nations. When her father resigned his post with the U.N., Miss Lie decided to stay in the United States and become an American citizen.

While she was caught up in the whirl of the diplomatic scene, however, Miss Lie had an admirable opportunity to get an inside glimpse of the most important residences in the world — The White House, Buckingham Palace, the Palais d'Elysee and the Kremlin, to name the four most influential.

Father's Hostess

During all her father's career in recent years, she has served as Lie's hostess and personal secretary. She has entertained the Gromykos, the Vishinskys, Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, British leaders and others.

Her talk this morning will concern the years she worked with her father and her personal observations of the persons she met.

Rabbi Irving Miller, chairman of the American Zionist Council, the places she saw and the events which took place during that time.
